

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

What is the CoastalMister?

The CoastalMister is an automated insecticide delivery system that is designed to significantly reduce the adult population of mosquitoes and certain other outdoor insects. While it doesn't claim to eliminate mosquitoes or other insects in their entirety, many CoastalMister owners would tell you that it does.

How does the CoastalMister work?

Much like a sprinkler system automatically delivers water to predetermined areas of a yard, the CoastalMister uses a network of small tubing and nozzles to automatically deliver a mist of insecticide to areas where mosquitoes and other flying insects live and breed.

What type of insecticide is used?

Each Coastal Dealer selects the exact product, formulation and dosage based upon their knowledge and experience as licensed pest management professionals. More than likely, naturally derived pyrethrum (a botanical insecticide derived from the Chrysanthemum flower) or a synthetic version called permethrin will be used. Your Coastal Dealer will provide you with detailed information on the product selected for your system and its approved usage.

When will I notice a reduction in mosquitoes?

The CoastalMister begins working the moment the system is activated. You will see the results immediately.

What about my outdoor pets?

The formulation and amount of insecticide prescribed for use with the CoastalMister is targeted specifically for mosquitoes and other flying insects. Your Coastal Dealer will explain the label on the specific product being used and will advise that misting directly on a pet should be avoided. However, use of a CoastalMister in areas where pets reside is very common. The remarks of Houston veterinarian Dr. Mark Purser probably address this question best, "For many years the animal health profession has comfortably used a wide variety of pyrethrum-based products to control insect infestations. Using pyrethrum in the CoastalMister is a great way to control mosquitoes and fly activity and the diseases they carry and transmit to our pets".

How often will the CoastalMister need a refill?

That will depend upon the number of nozzles, the number of misting cycles per day and the length of each misting cycle, along with the number of times that you manually activate a cycle. Your Coastal Dealer can calculate usage based upon pre-programmed misting cycles and anticipated manual usage.

When a system completes a misting cycle, how long should I wait before I go outside?

Generally speaking, within five minutes you may resume outside activities.

Does the CoastalMister really work?

Yes - delivered in the dosages prescribed for the CoastalMister, pyrethrum and permethrin insecticides are lethal to adult mosquitoes and other flying insects. A Coastal Dealer can design your system to deliver the insecticide in the precise manner needed to provide you with the relief you require.
